Pastors Track

Help Your Church Fulfill the Great Commission

You can equip
your congregation to make a greater global impact.
And Frontiers will help.

We can help you send workers well.

With more than four decades of experience, Frontiers partners with churches to recruit, train, and send missionaries from their congregations to go to the least-reached Muslim peoples.

Frontiers' church engagement team invites senior pastors and missions leaders to Pastors Track, a 3-day training designed to help church leaders like you elevate your sending.

You'll benefit from ten specialized sessions that will help you cultivate a robust sending culture and strengthen the pathways for your prospective goers.

Pastors Track runs in parallel with Frontiers' missionary candidate school, so you'll also get to participate in some of the same sessions as candidates and learn how to support goers so they can thrive on the field.

Join us at the next Pastors Track.

Frontiers' 3-day Pastors Track will inspire and equip you to lead your church in reaching the nations for Christ.

Pastors Track customized sessions will help you:

- Expand your church's global reach through an effective partnership with a trusted missions leader.
- Maximize your resources by learning how to better identify the best candidates to train and send.
- Develop greater involvement by gaining the tools to create church-wide excitement for unreached people groups.
- Learn alongside other church leaders and hear first-hand from future missionaries preparing for the Muslim world.

"The Pastors Track stirred a fresh passion for reaching the unreached and a clear strategy for how to do that."

— Doug Chandler, Missions Pastor, New Life Church, Chesapeake, VA

"Attending the Pastors Track was invaluable for me as the Lead Pastor to return to my local church and cast a more impassioned vision."

— Chris Whitehead, Lead Pastor, Charter Oak Church, Greensburg, PA
